LALJI FOUNDATION

Committed to Community Development,

Community development – shallow well project report (003)

Mabana village, Kilosa District- Morogoro region,

Date: 9th October, 2025

Venue: Mabana - Morogoro

1. Executive Summary

The Lalji Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to uplifting communities across Tanzania through sustainable development initiatives. The Foundation focuses on projects that promote education, clean water access, women's empowerment, orphans support and community Development

Mabana Village has historically faced challenges in obtaining reliable and clean water due to seasonal shortages, long distances to water sources, and contaminated water. Lack of nearby water sources forces households (especially women and children) to spend considerable time collecting water, limiting time available for education and income-generating activities. The shallow well donation addresses these needs by providing a closer, safer water source.

Lalji Foundation handover of a shallow well to Mabana Village, Kilosa District, Morogoro. The project aims to improve access to clean and safe water for domestic use, livestock, and small-scale irrigation, thereby improving health, livelihoods, and resilience in the community.

Imtiaz Lalji, the Chairman of Lalji Foundation, emphasised the importance of access to clean and safe water during the commissioning of the shallow well in Mabana Village, Kilosa District, Morogoro. He urged the community to take good care of the project to ensure it benefits both the current and future generations.

Mande Henry Magona, Chairman of Mabana village, in Kilosa District, Morogoro, thanked the Lalji Foundation for providing a shallow well, noting that the project will greatly ease access to clean and safe water for the community.

2. Project Objectives

- Provide sustainable, improved access to clean water for the residents of Mabana Village.
- Reduce time spent collecting water and associated burdens on women and children.
- Improve household hygiene and reduce water-borne illnesses.
- Support small-scale irrigation and livestock watering to boost livelihoods.
- Strengthen community ownership through the formation/strengthening of a Water Committee.

7. Impact of the project on the Community

- Women and children, who previously walked long distances to fetch water, now spend less time on this daily task.
- The well provides a consistent water supply even during dry seasons, reducing dependence on unsafe or seasonal sources.
- Access to clean water has led to a noticeable reduction in waterborne diseases such as diarrhea and typhoid.
- Households now maintain better hygiene and sanitation practices, with more frequent handwashing and cleaner food preparation.
- Health workers in the village have reported fewer cases of illness related to contaminated water.
- With shorter distances to fetch water, women have more time for productive activities such as farming, small businesses, and childcare.
- Children, especially girls, spend more time in school instead of walking long distances for water.
- The availability of water supports small-scale irrigation, enabling families to grow vegetables and other crops year-round.
- Livestock owners now have a dependable source of water for their animals, improving productivity.
